THE AUGUST 2010 ISSUE OF LIME IS OUT NOW!
LIME IS FEELING HOT WITH THE CARIBBEAN FEVER EDITION

Welcome to the August 2010 issue of Lime Magazine, the exciting publication which brings the best of London's cultural arts to you every month. As the capital's leading cultural listings guide, we recommend to you all the best theatre productions, gigs, comedy shows, exhibitions, places to eat, films, events, concerts and clubs, plus interviews with some of the most exciting talents in entertainment and reviews, too.

This month:

This month Lime is feeling hot, hot, hot as we celebrate all things Caribbean and of course Carnival season. In this sizzling issue Lime gets to the heart of the Caribbean and explores the culture, history, cuisine, music and costumes of London's very own Notting Hill Carnival as well as taking a look at Crop Over in Barbados and the steel pan movement. Feeling hot yet?

This month we have a fabulous selection of features and interviews – truly something for everyone. We speak to Shabaka Thompson from Carnival Village about Notting Hill's deep-rooted history, Poison UK's Catherine Rock lets us into the sequin-strewn world of masquerade; steel panist Rachel Duchnowski reveals her passion for the sound of steel and we provide the ultimate guide to all things Carnival this month. This month's DJ is international star Sassy Pandez and in comedy, Slim talks all things carnival and patois.

In music, we speak to chart topper Sean Kingston, critically acclaimed London rapper Klashnekoff speaks on his long awaited new album, the talented hotly-tipped songstress Rox shares her musical muses and Bizarre from D12 opens up about life after Proof. In theatre, actress and singer Sasha Allen reveals all about Broadway show Hair, now an international smash. In screen we have a q&a with the director and cast of the box office smash Karate Kid and an exclusive interview with Brit actor Aml Ameen who is about to crack Hollywood.

We also have a special reader give-away where we are offering a David Ross image worth £300.

Lime is very proud to celebrate its first birthday this month, so Happy Birthday to us and a massive thank you to all who have supported us these last 12 months!
