

What Makes the Black Woman Beautiful? The exclusive documentary from You're Beautiful, Woman

The You're Beautiful, Woman! event has always been one step ahead of the game – with a unique and empowering event which is more than just a superficial showcase but a necessary celebration of black women's beauty in all its forms. With a powerful mix of workshops and seminars, an acknowledgement of enterprise in its marketplace and its recognition of beauty in the pampering areas the event has been growing from strength to strength since its humble beginnings in the Imperial War Museum.

In 2010 the event will be bigger and better than ever before at the Highgate Newtown Centre with an exclusive screening of the highly anticipated documentary "What makes the Black Woman Beautiful" by renowned film producer and film maker, Isaac Asha Tomiczek. The documentary tackles the thought-provoking, controversial and often sensitive issue of beauty and black women's experience of beauty. This goes beyond race or racial stereo-typing but deals with an issue which is so often overlooked by mainstream society. At the same time it is a real reflection of the struggles that all women, regardless of age, experience, race and background, have to deal with in the acceptance of their own identities.

The film features women from all backgrounds including the critically acclaimed Shingai Shoniwa (The Noisettes), Zarah Abraham, Judith Jacob, Angie Le Mar, DJ MistaJam, Jasmia Robinson (Britain's Next Top Model finalist), Des O'Connor (the UK's only black dating coach) and the Dream Team (Maggi Udofia, Ronke Lawal, Lillian Ogbogoh, Ronke Adeyemi, Sophia A Jackson and Angel Smith) but men too. This provocative and inspirational film will leave a resonating imprint in the minds of the many who watch and the few who never understood what makes the black woman beautiful.

This documentary is sponsored by Ealing fostering and adoption services.

The documentary will be shown exclusively at the You're Beautiful, Woman event on 7 August, 2010.
Venue: Highgate Newtown Community Centre, 25 Bertram Street, Highgate, N19 5DQ
Time: 10am-5pm

For more information

Ronke Lawal – Marketing and PR Manager:
Sophia A Jackson – producer (sophia@afridiziak.com)
info@yourebeautifulwoman.com
www.yourebeautifulwoman.com

Notes to Editor

YBW! 2010: You're Beautiful, Woman! Is a fun yet constructive and educational event celebrating black female beauty in all its forms; fashion, hair, beauty, fitness and more.